FOUR MILES IN 20.55.

Another Time Row by Yale Satisfies Coaches.

Gales Ferry, June 16.—Rough water prevented the Yale crews from other than short spins on the water this morning, the crews covering about a half mile up stream and return. Coaching was done from the launch.

Late today the conditions were favorable and the varsity eight was given a fine row over the full four mile course, starting from the navy yard and rowing up stream. The crew was towed down to the start by the launch and the return made at a stroke varying from 11 to 34, with a light wind and tide with them. The full time for the four miles was 20.55. The first mile was covered in 5 minutes, the second 10.22, and the third in 15.40. The time for the four miles was considered to be very good by the coaches.

The second varsity four and the freshmen eight went over the last two miles of the four mile course; the time as taken for the four oared was 11.28, and that of the freshmen eight 10.38.

The first varsity four and the freshmen four rowed three miles down stream at a slow stroke, no time being taken.

Following the match, Padello challenged Collins for another match, which was accepted but no time set.

NORWICH TOWN

Old Leffingwell Homestead to Which Washington Came on Wash Day—Local People at Fellowship Meeting.

One of the interesting localities up town is the place known for years far and wide as the Leffingwell Inn. Entering the wide hall of this homestead and turning to the right, one steps down into a room wholly unadorned, windows with wooden shutters, and deep window seats opening like the lid of a chest. One would never suspect the many closets and cupboards in its parlors.

The south parlor, with its open fireplace, suggests the cheer of bygone days. The quaint arrangement of the stairways, the large rooms, the whole reminding one of a castle, is made more so by the fact that the Leffingwells, who lived here for many years, were the last owners of the Leffingwell Inn, which place they had been exiled in 1753.

During the Revolution Ensign Thomas's grandson, Christopher Leffingwell, remained in the home his paternal friends. The first announcement of the battles of Lexington and Concord was made to Colonel Leffingwell, whose services to his country during the Revolution were constant and very great. It was on a Monday that General Washington came unexpectedly to this home. Washing was being done in the basement. The work was stopped and the tubs were hurried into the cellar.

Colonel Leffingwell established a paper mill at the Falls—the first in the state. He planted the Washington street elms. When the wife of Colonel Leffingwell died she bequeathed this house to the children of her granddaughter, Mrs. Benjamin Huntington.

Party on the Rocks.

A family party took tea on Meeting House Rocks on Tuesday evening, following last year's pleasant custom.

Examinations are over in the Town street school and preparations for the closing exercises have begun. In the junior room the girls are writing the invitations and the boys design the program.

The First Congregational church was well represented at the Franklin fellowship meeting on Wednesday. Rev. G. H. Eving, George P. Hyde, Miss M. E. Walters, Mrs. W. W. Walters, Mrs. Potter, Mrs. George Stead, Miss Sadie J. Dawson, Miss Jessie Hyde and Miss Van Cleave were among those present from Norwich Town.

There were twenty-two present from the First Congregational church.

SUMMER HAIR DRESSING

The disagreeable and repulsive odors that come from the hair in summer are caused by dandruff.

Dandruff is caused by microbes which are hard to kill, but which can be killed by Parian Sage, the quick-acting, money-back hair tonic.

Dandruff can never be cured until the small, aggravating and indomitable dandruff germ is conquered and destroyed.

And millions of dandruff germs have been destroyed, thanks to the great scientist and dermatologist who gave to the world Parian Sage, the only real dandruff cure and hair grower the world has ever known.

If you have dandruff, Parian Sage will cure you in two weeks, or your money back.

But besides ridding the scalp of dandruff, Parian Sage is guaranteed to stop falling hair and itching of the scalp. It keeps the scalp cool and clean in summer. It is a prime favorite with women of refinement. It makes the hair soft, lustrous and beautiful in a week, and is not sticky or greasy.
